

Motion Picture News

A Daily Feature in the Herald.

This daily news feature of The Washington Herald is for the benefit of everybody interested in motion pictures. Suggestions, comments, criticisms, inquiries, and questions are invited. Address communications to Motion Picture Editor, Washington Herald.

This morning's hall game will be played by a picked nine from the local Motion Picture Operators' Union and one from the Baltimore Motion Picture Operators' Union on a local ball field.

The June monthly meeting of the local Motion Picture Exhibitors' League will be held at 10:30 a. m. next Thursday at 224 North Street Northwest. President Herbert, of the local organization, is hopeful of having National President Neff present. Among other subjects to be considered at the meeting will be the selection of six delegates from the local membership to attend the national convention, to be held in New York in July. Action also will most likely be taken on the attitude of the Washington membership in urging this city being selected as the meeting place for the convention in 1914. It seems this is beyond question the logical location for holding this convention in 1914, as there is every reason to believe San Francisco will get it in 1915, by reason of the Panama Exposition being there then, and that would be an "added attraction."

Three Big Features.

"From the Manger to the Cross" at the Casino all this week, a five-reel feature; "The Battle of Gettysburg," at Chase's today and tomorrow, a five-reel masterpiece; "Mme. Du Barry," at the Garden tomorrow and Tuesday, a magnificent hand-colored photo-play.

The Washington Herald does not buy scenarios. Its $100 prize for scenarios is still open for submission of scenarios, and beginning with tomorrow's special consideration will be given this interesting subject. All scenarios already submitted and all that are submitted for the next fifteen days will be deemed as entered for the prize already announced.

The wonderful Kinetograph pictures of the Panama Canal and Balboa, with the drawing crowds to the Balboa Theater. This will be the last week of this interesting production and lecture on the two

ARMY MEDICAL SCHOOL GRADUATES LARGE CLASS

Assistant Secretary of War Breckinridge Presents Diplomas to the Class.

A class of twenty-four graduated at the Army Medical School yesterday. Assistant Secretary of War Henry Breckinridge presented the diplomas in the absence of Secretary Garrison.

Brig. Gen. George M. Sternberg, former Surgeon General of the Army, presented George R. Callender with the Sternberg medal, offered by Dr. Richard Sles. Col. John Van R. Hoff awarded the lion medal to Benjamin R. Warren. Sidney L. Chapel and George F. Leal were honor graduates. The other graduates were Clarence R. Bell, Raymond W. Bliss, William B. Horden, Raymond C. Bull, Royal E. Cummins, Harry L. Dale, Bertram P. Duckwall, Robert H. Duerksen, John S. C. Fielden, Jr., Edward R. Gilman, Halbert P. Harris, William D. Herbert, Charles C. Hillman, Norman T. Kirk, Ernest C. McCulloch, Fletcher C. McFarland, John S. Saurman, Alvin W. Schoenfelder, Stephen H. Smith, and Edward T. B. Weidner.

MORE STREET CAR LINES.

Public Utilities Commission is Considering Some Extensions.

The Public Utilities Commission is considering the need of additional street car lines in the District of Columbia. The District Commissioners sent to Congress last year a detailed report as to their reasons for holding additional car lines to be necessary. One of their recommendations was that the two companies now operating in the District should be consolidated under one management. Traffic on some of the main lines is said to be just as much as they will bear now, and it is further pointed out that this traffic is rapidly increasing. In the report of the Commissioners, the following extensions were recommended as immediately advisable: From the north end of the Connecticut Avenue line to the north end of the Pennsylvania Avenue line; from the north end of the Pennsylvania Avenue line to the north end of the Rock Creek Park line; from the north end of the Rock Creek Park line to the north end of the Four-and-a-half Street line; from the north end of the Four-and-a-half Street line to the north end of the Eleventh Street line; from the north end of the Eleventh Street line to the north end of the Connecticut Avenue line.

WANT AD HOROSCOPE.

All persons born from May 20 to June 21 are born under the sign Gemini, which means the twins. This the head sign of the air tribulation and in all cases these people are double in their nature. These people are always remarkable because they have a dual nature constantly in active operation, but their genius is best developed when they are educated and are allowed to follow the inclination of their taste in choice of their life work. The strongest mental feature of these people is their vivid imagination. They may become composers, dramatists, and authors. They need to control their lower natures with great determination. When this is done they rise to any position of power and eminence. The sign favors the Want Ads in placing of domestics, in traveling and in salesmanship. Business partnerships may be formed and household agreements entered into with profit through the Want Columns this month.

A WASHINGTON GIRL.

Mrs. Mary Fuller is not only a successful "silent player," enjoying an international reputation, but has a record for scenario writing and costume designing that has amazed her many admirers. With such genius it surely would be long before a Belasco or a Frohman would be attracted by her abilities and like "Little Mary" Pickford we will find Mary Fuller taken into the fold of the legitimate drama and lost to the "movie fauna."

Avenue Bridge to the western end of Massachusetts Avenue. From the present terminus of the Mount Pleasant to Argyle Terrace by way of Eighteenth Street Northwest. In Fourteenth and Fifteenth Streets Northeast, from H Street to East Capitol Street, and in C and D Streets Northeast, from Thirteenth Street to Fifteenth Street. In M Street Northwest, from Twenty-sixth Street to New Jersey Avenue. As a tentative suggestion, the Commissioners invited attention also to the desirability of several short lengths of subway construction with an underground station located in the vicinity of Fifteenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue.

SECRETARY OF STATE RECEIVES GRAPE JUICE AT STATE DEPARTMENT

Officials of the State Department sat up and took notice yesterday when a large case labeled "grape juice" was seen to arrive at the office of William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State. There was for a time expectation that Mr. Bryan's brand of "grape juice" would be passed out, but this was dispelled when messengers were seen carrying the case of grape juice down into the basement.

It was said by employees of the department that this was not an isolated "case," and that others have been received at the Secretary's office recently. It was reported that Mr. Bryan has been the recipient of many gifts of cases of grape juice since the occasion of his dinner to the ambassadors, at which his policy with regard to wine at dinners was made known. The Secretary refused to discuss the "case."

Eight Nations Are for Peace. The government of Austria-Hungary, through its embassy, informed Secretary Bryan yesterday of its interest in his proposed peace treaty. This makes the treaty which the United States and one of the nations have made a favorable response to Mr. Bryan's invitation to enter into a treaty by which both parties agree to an impartial investigation of any controversy, during which investigation neither side shall begin hostilities.

One employee or passenger is injured for every 12,000 miles covered by trolley cars in the United States and one for every 175,000 miles covered by automobiles.
